Humorous Pepartment. Agricultural Department. Children's Department.

She had her mind made up for two or three days that the boy needed some castor oil, but she knew that she must approach him gently. year they gather their corn and put it in pens, from her home. It was too far for her to She placed the bottle where he could see it, good and inferior together. When the season walk in the winter. Her father always sent and when he turned up his nose she said: "It's just like honey my darling."

He seemed to doubt her word, and she con-"If you'll take some I'll let you go to the circus." "How much?" he cautiously inquired. "Oh, only a spoonful-just one spoonful," she replied, as she uncorked the bottle. "And you'll give me some sugar besides?"

"Of course I will—a big lump." He waited until she began pouring from the bottle, and then asked:

"And you'll give me ten cents, too?" "Yes, of course." "And you'll buy me a shoo-fly kite?" he

"I guess so. "Well, I'll buy you the kite," she replied, filling the spoon clear up.

"And a velocipede?" "I'll think of it."

went on, seeing his advantage.

"You can't think no castor oil down me!" he exclaimed, looking around for his hat.
"Here—I will, or I'll tease father to, and I know he will. Come, now, swallow it down." "And you'll buy me a goat?"

"And two hundred marbles?" "Yes. Now take it right down." "And a coach dog?"

"I can't promise that." "All right; no dog, no ile."
"Well, I'll ask your father." "And you'll buy me a pony?"

"Oh, I couldn't do that. Now be a good boy and swallow it down." "Oh, yes, I'll swallow that stuff, I will!" he said, as he clapped on his hat "You may fool some other boy with a circus ticket and a lump of brown sugar, but it'll take a hundred dollar pony to trot that castor ile down my throat ! And he went out to see if the neighbor's cat had been caught in the dead fall he set for reminds us of one Moses Hawks, who used during the period of publishing the tax-lists, batch of promises to pay—quarters, halves, and dollars—and occupied himself for sever-

THE ORIGINAL INFLATIONIST.

Merchants and dealers had sold their goods for Hawks was bankrupt and could not redeem, and the people were in a bad plight.

One morning a stranger presented himself to Hawks and demanded that he should re- riculturalist. deem some that he (the stranger) had received at Sagatuck, where he had been to look after some business matters. Hawks declined the accommodation. The stranger then asked, "This is good, is it not, Mr. Hawks?" "Good thunder!" replied Hawks, "It ought to be, for every man, woman, and child within fifty miles of this place has from a peck to half bushel of it.' "But, Mr. Hawks, you redeem, don't you?"

"Redeem!" exclaimed Hawks; "it wasn't made to redeem; it was made to circulate."

PARIS GREEN.-A grizzly-looking man found the proprietor very busy compounding prescriptions, but he left his work and came ear close to his mouth, whispered, huskily: "Got any Paris green ?"

ing across 'the beautiful, the beautiful river,' like a duck across a milli-pond?"

"Well, then, give me five cents' worth of gumdrops."

The man gave them to him, and continued : my time talking about Paris green when you don't want any ?"

and I want to see if I can't sell some for you can save more money, if they earn less, than

A MILD SUGGESTION.—A country clergyman who had been accustomed to minister to the spiritual needs of a congregation in the take a board about two feet long, five or six backwoods, was called to occupy the pulpit of an absent metropolitan brother. The day being excessive hot, and his sermon exceedingly long, he made his preparation accordwas proceeding to get rid of his vest, when there was a stir among the worshippers, and ther, that this isn't a bath-house." He by remaining more quiet. preached with his vest on.

ARREST.-A colored woman, a few days since, inquired of her husband what was the meaning of arrest. She said, "I hear so much 'bout people being under 'arrest'; what does it mean?" "Why," said the colored definer thus appealed to, "and—and—why, arrest means when any body do any thing mean, dey take 'em up and put 'em in jail, and let 'em rest dare. When dey done got sufishent rested, den dey lets 'em out." "Well, well," said the anxious inquirer, "Jim, I beleabs you nose mos' any thing; I never knowed dat

A WET RAIN .- A clergyman, meeting a little boy of his acquaintance, said, "This is quite a stormy day, my son." "Yes, sir," answered the boy, "this is quite a wet rain." The clergyman, thinking to rebuke such hyperbole, asked if he ever knew of any other than a wet rain. "I never knew perit rained fire and brimstone, and I guess that was not a very wet rain." "Thunder," exclaimed a man, rushing into a railroad telegraph station the other day, "The express train's gone off the big bridge!"

When it is not convenient to take a lock apart to fit a new key, the key blank should be smoked over a candle, inserted in the keybele and pressed firmly against the PICKING UP "Many killed, many killed?" screamed the the keyhole, and pressed firmly against the bystanders. "Not a one," replied the other. opposing wards of the lock. The indentations school scholar earned a new suit of clothes, "She just went on at one end and went off at in the smoked portion made by the wards will shoes and all, by digging dandelions and sell-the other, just as usual !" An Englishman was boasting to a Yankee that they had a book in the British several remedies for gapes, but have found constant scholar at the day school, he did run the animals that went into the ark.

This is an item that a great majority of comes to plant corn the farmer gets upon the her to school in the morning in a carriage or top of the heap and selects out those ears that sleigh, and brought her home at night in the are the finest-looking, and which are likely to same way. a few years he finds his corn has hybridized fore dark." and runs out, and he wants a new kind; for that which has been raised for a succession of years on the same farm or immediate neigh- shawls, and set out for home. borhood is of little value when compared with carefully selected seed. The general complaint is that it yields a small amount to the lie take her seat by the stove. acre, weighs light to the bushel, and matures late. We should remember that every new stalk raised is more or less a new variety; and to have corn constantly improving great "No kite, no ile," he said, as he drew back. care should be taken to save the very best. 1. In gathering corn, take such ears only as are the finest and from the most prolific stalks. 2. Never take from a stalk having but one ear, if large or thrifty stalks can be found with two or more good-sized ears. Generally but one of them is fit for seed, and that usually the second from the ground. But if the lowest is best, take that.

3. Always take ears that are filled out to the end, and that run beyond the husk, if such can be found. When you come to plant, before shelling, break every ear and see if the pith of the cob

If farmers would pursue this course yearly, their crops would be greatly increased and improved.

taken as the index of the character of the farmer. As is the barn-yard, so is the farm and the farmer. It is well that all of us should remember that in this case it is no figure of speech to say that "straws show which way the wind blows." The arrangement of the barn-yard is not for show altogether. The profits of the farm depend to a great extent upon it. It is in the yard and the barns This doctrine of inflating the currency by that the produce of the farm which is not issuing an unlimited amount of greenbacks, sold outright is converted into beef, pork, mutton, wool, or milk and butter-articles to live over in Allegan and run a newspaper | that may be more profitably sold. It is in and shingle shanty. The newspaper was run | the yard also that the manure is made and kept. The barn and barn-yard are the manand Moses shaved shingles the rest of the ufactory of the farm; and if they are not aryear. Hawks was a great man in that burgh; ranged with a view to economy, a large waste and, as currency was scarce in the community | results that reduces the farmer's profit. The because no one had anything to purchase it majority of the farmers in this country, from with, a bright idea struck him. He went into necessity, begin business with small means, his office one morning and printed a large and do the best they can with the materials

The excellence of farm-buildings does not al days in affixing the autograph of Moses consist so much in the materials of which they Hawks to every one of them. Hawks, that are built, as in the use made of those mateis Moses, was now a wealthy man, and possess- rials. Useful buildings may be made of logs ed of unlimited resources. He bought every- or prairie sods, or poles and coarse hay; and thing offered for sale, and paid in his new cur- these, by skillful arrangement, may be made rency, and also loaned it to his neighbors. | to serve as useful a purpose as dressed lumber The thing worked like a charm until tax and paint, or pressed bricks. The main points time, when something better was required. are warmth, dryness, and ventilation; for food Everybody had sold their "truck" and taken is wasted when an animal shivers in its stable Hawks's currency in payment. The people and when its health is injured by damp, filth, flocked to Hawks and demanded redemption. or bad air. A farmer who is thoughtful He redeemed by issuing a new batch of scrip about such small things as this-although and more of it. Prior to that the scrip had this is more important than it appears-may passed currently among the people, but the be taken to be a careful, thrifty man, who by new issue had so inflated the "currency" that and by will be able to build a barn with all the people refused to receive it longer, it hav- the modern improvements, and to build it ing become so plentiful as to be worthless. properly too. The old proverb, "Take care of the small things, and the large ones will the stuff, but could not buy more with it. take care of themselves," is applicable to matters about farms and barn-yards especial ly. When the small things are well watched, large ones are not forgotten .- American Ag-

THE COUNTRY THE PLACE FOR MECHANics.—The demand for mechanics in country keep this gate shut, nor suffer any one to places is always growing. It is a mistake to suppose that carpenters, bricklayers, and masons need to crowd into a city to find employment. In the country, where a mechanic can have a few acres of land, upon which he may frightened into doing wrong. With an army spend part of his time not otherwise occupied, he need never be short of work. He can French but the world." And handing the keep a horse, and ride to his work, losing less time in doing so, than if he lived in a city. He can keep a cow, pigs and fowls, and raise, with the help of his children, a large share top of his voice: "Hurrah, hurrah! I've done dropped into a drug-store, the other day, and of his supplies. His family will have better health, and enjoy themselves much more than the Duke of Wellington." in the crowded city, having flowers and a out in the hope of selling something to the garden to amuse them. They may dress less the glass case, to the great peril of the tooth- rent will not have to be provided for every or chew tobacco? Keep the gate of your brushes within, and, drawing the chemist's month, or if it has, it will be but a trifle compared with city rents. Farmers everywhere to enter. When evil companions would counare improving their buildings, putting up sel you to break the Sabbath, to lie, to deal better barns and fences, and competent coun-"Is it solid stuff that will send a fellow fly- try mechanics could procure profitable jobs, and could do the work at much cheaper rates than in cities. One well finished job brings others, for nothing is so catching as improvement, and our experience has been that many farmers do without new barns or houses, because of the difficulty in procuring competent "What in thunder do you mean by wasting mechanics at a reasonable price. There are very few good farmers now in the east or the west, that are not able to have good farm-"Because I know some families that are buildings, and at the present time, village starving to death-life is a burden to them, mechanics have more steady employment, and those who work in the cities.

JUMPING SHEEP.-A stock-raiser says: If sheep are addicted to the vice of jumping, inches wide, and one inch thick, and fasten it to the sheep's neck so that it will come flat against the knees. When the sheep attempts to jump, the board prevents a foothold on the ingly. He first removed his cravat and then fence and throws them back. A few trials his collar and cuffs, and then his coat, and satisfy them. The worst jumpers can be cured in this way. Last year I had nine which were so bad jumpers that no fence cauld one of them, rising, said in a deep, deliber- stop them. I fixed them in the way above ate voice, "I don't know what may be the described and had no further trouble. At the brother's intention; but perhaps it might same time the board will prevent much runas well be understood, before he goes any fur- ning about, and cause them to fatten better

> VALUE OF SOAP-SUDS .- However deplorable washing-day may be to the household has it in her power to greatly modify its dis- call small sins. These rocks do not look so comforts,) to the garden it is a very bountiful | fearful to them. may cost us to give them this fertilizer. If old steersman with great interest, and observed the sun is shining hot when we go out to dis- that whenever he came near to a stick of pense our favor, it is best for us to dig a slight | painted wood he changed his course. trench not far from the root of the plant, and pour the water into it, and cover again with the | wood?" asked the boy. top-soil. This makes the water go further, and at the same time does not tempt the rootlets to the surface of the ground. CHOKED CATTLE.—To remove a potato or of wood," said the thoughtless boy; "I would other obstructions from the throat of a cow, go right over them. or other animals: Draw the tongue from the The old man replied by a look which that the throat. In a few minutes after throw a foolish lad," it said, "how little you know I have read in a certain book of a time when handful of fine salt far into the mouth, which about rocks!" will produce a cough and remove the obstruc> tion. When it is not convenient to take a whenever you meet one, turn aside, for there show where to file.

Museum which was once owned by Cicero. nothing so effectual as assafætida. Put a few errands for Mrs. Davis. "When did you find own or other people's domestic affairs. Yours cess impossible by their own cross-grained un-"O, that ain't nothing," retorted the Yankee; grains into the watering-trough and let the time?" "in the museum in Bosting they've got the chickens have no other water, and they will "There is almost always time for what we nothing to you. The subject is a tender one; less gifted, make their way and achieve sucthe lead-pencil that Noah used to check off not be troubled with gapes. I have found it are bent upon," said Johuny. "You see, pick and it is odds but you touch somebody or cess by simple patience, equanimity and selfto be a preventive, as well as a cure.

NELLIE AND HER FATHER'S PROMISE. Nellie Parsons, an American girl, went to farmers pass by unnoticed. In the fall of the school in the country. It was about a mile be the soundest for seed, never knowing what | One afternoon he stopped at the schoolkind of a stalk produced them -whether it house; and calling Nellie out, he said: "I was a thrifty and well matured stalk, or what am going along the road several miles, and position the ear occupied on the stalk, either may not return until after school is out. But high up or low down toward the ground. In wait for me till I come. I will be here be-

When school was out, the children wrapped themselves in their cloaks and over-coats and "Are you not going?" asked one of the last that left the school-room, as she saw Nel-"Father told me to wait for him," said "Are you not afraid to stay here alone?"

"What is there to be afraid of? It is pleasant and warm here." "I should be afraid to stay here alone. said the girl; "it will be dark pretty soon." "Father said he would be here before dark."

"What will you do if he does not come?" "Father will come for me; for he said he Nellie was left alone. Time seemed to move very slowly, the sun went down, and it began to be gloomy. She went to the door and looked out for her father. He was not in sight, although from the door of the school house you could see nearly a mile along the road. Presently a man came along with a voke of ozen and a sleigh. He was a neighbor of theirs. is dried up: for if it is not, the corn is not "What are you doing here?" he asked of

"I am waiting for father," was her answer. "It will soon be dark," he said; "you had petter get on my sleigh and go as far as my THE BARN-YARD.—The barn-yard may be house. It would not be pleasant for you to stay here all night." "Father will be sure to come for me." said

Nellie, when he saw her standing in the door.

Nellie; "he told me to wait for him until he came. It was nearly dark, not quite, when her father drove up to the door. He had driven tast to get there. He had been kept longer than he had expected, and he had left his business unfinished in order to keep his promise and get back to his child before dark.

"Were you not afraid I would not come, Nellie?" he asked as he wrapped her up in he warm buffalo rug. "No, father," was the child's answer, "you said you would come, and I knew I could

"KEEP THE GATE SHUT."

An English farmer was one day at work in his fields, when he saw a party of huntsmen riding about on his farm. He had one field that he was especially anxious they should not ride over, as the crop was in a condition to be badly injured by the tramp of the horses. So he dispatched one of his workmen to this field, telling him to shut the gate, and then keep watch over it, and on no account to suffer it to be opened. The boy went as he was bidden; but was scarcely at his post before the hunters came up, peremptorily ordering the gate to be opened. This the boy declined to do, stating the orders he had rethem. Threats and bribes were offered, alike in vain. One after another came forward as spokesman, but all with the same result; the boy remained immoveable in the determination not to open the gate. After a while, one of noble presence advanced, and said in commanding tones: "My boy, do you know me? I am the Duke of Wellington, one not accustomed to be disobeyed; and I command you to open that gate, that I and my friends may pass through." The boy lifted his can. and stood uncovered before the man whom al England delighted to honor, then answered firmly: "I am sure the Duke of Wellington would not wish me to disobey orders. I must pass but with my master's express permission. Greatly pleased, the sturdy old warrior lifted his own hat, and said: "I honor the boy or man who can be neither bribed nor of such soldiers, I could conquer not only the boy a glittering sovereign, the old Duke put spurs to his horse and galloped away, while the boy ran off to his work, shouting at the what Napoleon couldn't do-I've kept out

Every boy is a gate-keeper, and his masmouth fast closed, and allow no evil company falsely, to disobey your parents, keep the gate of your ears fast shut against such en-"hath said in his heart, there is no God."-Christian Weekly.

LOOK OUT FOR THE ROCKS.-A gentleman crossing the English Channel, stood near the helmsman. It was a calm and pleasant evening, and none dreamed of a possible danger to their good ship. But a sudden flapping of the sail, as if the wind had shifted, caught the ear of the officer on watch, and he sprang at once to the wheel, examining closely the

"You are half a point off the course," he said sharply to the man at the wheel. The bring us on the rocks," he said. hood. Half a point from perfect honesty, and

"Why do you turn out for those bits of

The old man looked up from under his shaggy brows, too much taken up with his task to talk, and simply growled out "Rocks!" "Well, I would not turn out for those bits

So, children, shun the rocks as you would the way to death. There are plenty of buoys to warn you where they lie hidden; and PICKING UP THE MINUTES .- A Sabbath-ing them to the dealers in herbs.

"When did you find time, Johnny?"

up the minutes, and they are excellent picking." other's sore place.

Selected Loetry.

GOING OUT WITH THE TIDE. Raise me up in my bed, wife; There's the sound of the sea in my ear; And it sings to my soul in a music That earth is not blessed to hear. Open the little window, wife,
Then come and sit by my side;
We'll wait God's sweet flood-water

To take me out with the tide. I see the harbor-bar, wife, And my dear little boat in the bay; But who shall be able to guide her When her master hath passed away? I know that her helm, so trusty, Will answer no other hand

As it answered mine, when I knew, wife, You were waiting for me on the strand. Our boys are all before us, wife; Wee Jack is beneath the wave, And blue-eyed Freddie sleeps, wife, In yonder yew-bowered grave,

Where the early daisies cluster Around his baby-bed And the thrush sits chanting softer In yonder tree that shades the dead. There's a chill runs through our hearts, wife, But a darker grief will be yours wife, When you're left in the cot alone; But a few more flows of the sea, wife, And a few more ebbs of the tide, Then God's sweet flood shall bring you Again to your old man's side!

The red sun is low in the west, wife, And the tide sinks down with the sun; We will part with each other in love, wife, For sweetly our lives have run. Give me your hand, my own love,
As you gave it in days of yore;
We will clasp them, ne'er to be sundered,
When we meet on the far-off shore!

Miscellaneous Reading.

HOW TO GET A DINNER.

A gentleman who traveled about pretty extensively was greatly perplexed to understand now it was that other persons were waited upon promptly and well served in the hotels. while he was almost entirely ignored, and could scarcely obtain a proper meal, complain to and swear at the waiters as he might. At last his eyes were opened to the dodge of feeing the waiters liberally, and, being of an ngenious turn of mind, he determined to improve on the plan. The next hotel he dined at he took his seat very pompously at the table, and out of a well-filled pocketbook extracted a one-dollar bill, which he laid on the white cloth beside his plate, and placed his goblet upon it. In an instant he was surrounded by waiters, who seemed to vie with each other in their attentions. Every wish was anticipated, and all the delicacies of the kitchen and pantry were placed before him in tempting array. Having fared as sumptuously as a prince (to the envy of many of the other guests), he took up the note, and, beckoning to the nearest waiter, was immediately besieged by a half-dozen or so. Holding the note in one hand, he pointed to it with the other, and inquired of the crowd, 'Do you see that note?" "Oh, yes, sir!' they all exclaimed, in chorus. "Then take a good look at it," he replied, "for you will never see it again." Saying which, he departed, leaving the waiters aghast.

THE CURSE OF SCOTLAND .- A few evenngs before the battle of Culloden, there were gathered in the apartments of the Pretender at Inverness, a few of his friends, for the purpose of playing at cards. In the course of to the pack with which they were playing, was lost. On the night of the battle, which was lost. On the night of the battle, resulted so disastrously for the rebel army, the Duke of Cumberland entered Inverness, and, as was his invariable custom, took up his quarters in the apartment which had so recently been occupied by Prince Charles Edward. On the following morning a scout brought in word that a small portion of the ment in his handkerchief, seized hold of the rebel army had taken shelter in a deep gorge among the mountains. The duke at once directed an officer to take a number of men. surround the party, and put every man to death who was found in arms. The officer, reluctant to execute this inhuman order, and perhaps fearful of after consequences, declined o take the command without a written order. The duke looked round the room for a piece of paper on which to write the order, when some one picked up the lost card, and presented it to the duke, who wrote his order on the back of it, and handed it to the officer. The soldiers departed on their errand of butchery, and so well did they execute the duke's commands, that not one of the devoted band accomplish his desires?

rents approved of the deception, will he not surpasses any Gin now made. It turns off more lint, of finer texture, and Gins very rapidly. We refer to R. E. Guthrie, Dr. J. F. Lindsay and G. of Highlanders escaped death. Hence it is that the nine of diamonds is called the curse

STICK TO IT.-Learn a trade, or get into a business, and go at it with a determination that defies failure, and you will succeed. Lon't leave it because hard blows are to be ter's command is, "Be thou faithful unto struck or disagreeable work to be performed. care-worn stranger. The latter leaned over expensively, will wear out fewer clothes, and death." Are you tempted to drink, to smoke, Those who have worked their way up to wealth and usefulness do not belong to the shiftless and unstable class; if you do not work while a young man, as an old man you will be nothing. Work with a will, and conquer your prejudices against labor, and manfully bear the heat and burden of the day. licements, and when the bold blasphemer It may be hard the first week, but after that would instil doubts of the great truths of I assure you it will become a pleasure, and revelation, then keep the door of your heart you will feel enough better satisfied with locked and barred against his infamous sug- yourself to pay for all the trials of a begingestions, remembering that it is only the fool ning. Let perseverance and industry be your motto, and with a steady application to business you need have no fear for the future. Don't be ashamed of your plain clothes, provided you have earned them. They are far more beautiful in the estimation of all honest men and women than the costly gew-gaws sported by some people at the expense of the confiding tailor. The people who respect you only when well clad, will be the first to run from you in the hour of adversity.

BE OF GOOD CHEER .- A man who acquires a habit of giving way to depression is on the road to ruin. When trouble comes deviation was corrected, and the officer re- upon him, instead of rousing his energies to necessary I would. You have courage enough combat it, he weakens, and his faculties grow to swallow something which does not taste "You must steer very accurately," said the dull and his judgment becomes obscured, and good, have you not?" ooker on, "when only half a point is so much | he sinks into the slough of despair. And if anybody pulls him out by main force and "Ah! half a point, in many places, might places him on solid ground, he stands dejected and discouraged, and is pretty sure to So it is in life. Half a point from strict waste the means of help which have been truthfulness strands us upon the rocks of false- given him. How different it is with the man who takes a cheery view of life even at its we are steering straight for the rocks of crime. worst, and faces every ill with unyielding And so of all kindred vices. The beginnings pluck! He may be swept away by an over- as it is." are always small. No one climbs to a summit whelming tide of misfortune, but he bravely at one bound, but goes up one little step at a struggles for the shore, and is ready to make (and the careful house-mistress or tidy maid time. Children think lightly of what they the best of the help that may be given him. A cheerful, hopeful, courageous disposition is an invaluable trait of character, and should be assiduously cultivated.

Don't Criticise.—Whatever you do, nevnewspaper one, but in private life, in the domestic circle, in society. It will not do any one any good, and will do you harm—if you mind being called disagreeable. If you don't you, remember your own. People are not things as you find them, unless you can alter duty. them. Even a dinner, after it is eaten, can't be made any better. Continual fault-finding, continual criticism of the conduct of this one, mouth and pour a teacup of melted lard down boy has not forgotten in his manhood. "Poor the dress of the other, and the opinions of another, will make home the unhappiest place under the sun. If you are never pleased with any one, no one will ever be pleased with you. And if it is known you are hard to suit, few will take pains to suit you.

GRATITUDE.-A man who had saved the life of a daughter of a millionaire received two dollars and fifty cents from the grateful parent. He was so overcome with the magnificent bounty that he paid out every cent of it to seventeen organ-grinders to simultaneously serenade his benefactor.

are nothing to them, but tedious; theirs are gentlenesss, while others, who may be much

Reading for the Sabbath.

CONDUCTED BY REV. ROBERT LATHAN.

RESTRAINING PROVIDENCE. That God is omnipotent, no one who believes in the existence of a God will deny. The intelligent observer sees, in everything around him, demonstrations of almighty power. The existence of the world, and the order which pervades the whole, is a proof that some being, who has an arm that is full of power, sits on the throne of the Universe. To create a world and people it with the countless millions of creatures which inhabit our world, is an unmistakable evidence of almighty power; but to govern and control the world so as to prevent one part from desthe world so as to prevent one part from destroying another part, is equally as great, if not a greater evidence of almighty power. A

NE THOUSAND BUSHELS CORN wanted, for which I will pay the highest each price.

A. WILLIFORD. not a greater evidence of almighty power. A moment's variation in the revolution of any of the bodies which revolve around the sun, would be attended with results which no one can tell. The inability to continue in existence and in operation the law of gravitation, Great, however, as is the manifestation of almighty power in the creation and preservation of the world, the restraints which God puts upon the evil passions of a man is no less a proof of the same thing.

In France, there is, in one of the burial would fill space with worlds dashed into grounds, a tomb stone on which is an inscription something like this: "Reader, were alive you would be dead." The historian will have no difficulty in concluding whose grave this stone marks. It is the grave of a bloody monster. This simple epitaph is exceedingly suggestive. Were it not for the tyrant, death, there would be a multitude of tyrants who would render the existence of their fellows will do well to examine my stock.

W. P. HOBBS. doubtful. None but omnicience knows what is in the hearts of some men; and nothing but omnipotence can restrain the evil passions of most men.

There are multitudes of the human family who, had they the power, would depopulate continents. But for the restraining providence of God, human blood would flow like present opportunity to secure one CHEAP.

W. P. HOBBS. rivers. Countless multitudes would be trampled in the dust. No man could lie down upon his bed and calculate with any certainty that he would arise in the morning. The more powerful would swallow up the weak. The chariot wheels of the strong would crush the widow and the orphan. Such is not the case, because God restrains the wicked passions of men. "He maketh the wrath of man to praise him and the remainder of MEMPHIS, TENN., AND ATLANTA, GA wrath he restrains."

DO NOT DECEIVE CHILDREN.

Many are unaware of the evil consequences which result from this common practice. A physician was once called to extract a tooth from a child. The little boy, seeing the formidable instruments, and anticipating the the evening the nine of diamonds, belonging pain, was exceedingly frightened, and refused to open his mouth. After much solicitation the physician said-"Perhaps there is no need of drawing it. Let me rub it a little with my handkerchief.

and it may be all that is necessary; it will not hurt you in the least." The boy, trusting his word, opened his mouth. The physician, concealing his instru-tooth, and wrenched it out. The parents highly applauded his artifice. But the man cheated the child. He abused his confidence. And he inflicted an injury upon his moral feeling, not soon to be forgot-

Will that physician get his handkerchief into the mouth of the child again? Will he believe what the physician may hereafter say? And when told that it is wicked to say that which is not true, will not the remembrance of the doctor's falsehood be fresh in his mind? And while conscious that his pa-

The practice of deceiving children is attended with the most ruinous consequences. It unavoidably teaches the child to despise his parents.

After he has detected them in one falsehood he will not believe them when they speak the It destroys his tenderness of conscience.

And it teaches the arts of deception. And what are the advantages? Why, in one particular instance the point is gained. Let then compulsion be resorted to when necessary; but deception never. If a child cannot place implicit confidence in his parents, most assuredly no confidence can be reposed in the child. Is it possible for a mother to practice the arts of deception and falsehood, and at the same time her daughter form a character of frankness and truth? Who can for a moment suppose it! We must be what we wish our children to be. They will form their character from ours. A mother was once trying to persuade her little son to take some medicine. The medicine was very unpalatable, and she, to induce him to take it, declared it did not taste bad. He did not believe her. He knew, by sad experience, that her word was not to be trusted. A gentleman and friend who was present.

took the spoon and said-"James, this is medicine, and it tastes very badly. I should not like to take it, but if "Yes," said James, looking less sulky, "but that is very bad, indeed." "I know it," said the gentleman. "I presume you never tasted anything much worse." The gentleman then tasted of the medicine himself, and said-

"It is very unpleasant. But let us see if you have not resolution enough to take it, bad as it is."

The boy hesitatingly took the spoon.
"It is really bad," said the gentleman; "but COTTON GINS that need REPAIRING, can be put in good order by sending them to me, on or before the first of September.

Farming Implements and Machinery RE-PAIRED at short notice.

WAGONS MADE AND REPAIRED, of seathe best way is to summon all your resolution and down with it at once, like a man."

James made, in reality, a great effort for a child, and swallowed the dose. And who will this child most respect-his deceitful mother, or the honest stranger? er set up for a critic. We don't mean a And who will be hereafter most readily believed? at ought, however, to be remarked, that had the child been properly governed, he would at once, and without a murmur, have like any one's chin, don't put your feelings taken what his mother presented. It is cerinto words. If any one's manner don't please tainly, however, a very supposable case that the child might, after all the arguments of made to suit one taste; recollect that. Take the gentleman, still have refused to do his What course should then be pursued?

Resort to compulsion, but never to deceit. We cannot deceive our children without seriously injuring them, and destroying our Frank and open dealing is the only safe policy in family government, as well as on the wider theatre of life. The underhand arts and cunning manœuvres of the intriguer are sure, in the end, to promote his own overthrow.

by virtuous and honorable means. For want of self-restraint, many men are engaged all their lives in fighting difficul-Cautiously avoid talking of either your ties of their own making, and rendering suc-

Be sincere and honest, and you are safe.

A. WILLIFORD,

MULES AND HORSES.

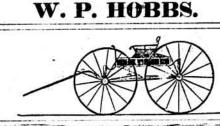

WOULD respectfully inform the public that I will have on hand and for sale at my stable in Rock Hill, by the 20th of September, instant. 40 HEAD MULES AND HORSES, which will be sold at the lowest prices, and on the most favorable terms that can be afforded. The above invoice will include all grades of animals—good roadsters and fine farming stock. A call from my old friends, whom I am ever ready to accommodate, is respectfully solicited.

A. WILLIFORD.

A LL persons indebted to me for Horses or Mules purchased in 1874 and due in that year, are requested to pay up at once and save cost. A failure to comply may injure their credit with me during the present year. A. WILLIFORD. CORN WANTED.

FODDER WANTED. WISH to buy 10,000 pounds GOOD FODDER, for which I will pay the market price.

A. WILLIFORD.

THE NEW BUSINESS.

HAVING become, by purchase, sole proprietor of the YORKVILLE COACH FACTORY, I respectfully announce that I shall conduct the business as heretofore. Besides keeping on hand a full stock of PLEASURE VEHICLES OF ALL a full stock of PLEASURE VEHICLES OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS, any article of special style or design will be made at short notice and in superior manner. By having employed only the most competent workmen, in their respective branches, I feel assured that I can please the most exacting taste, both as to style and durability. Persons in want of any kind of PLEASURE CARRIAGE

GREAT BARGAINS.

WOULD inform the public that I now haveon hand alot of BUGGIES, finished in fine style, which RARE BARGAINS can be obtained. I will sell a tip-top Buggy for considerably less than such class of work has ever been sold in this market since the war. Call and examine my stock and be convinced of the truth of what I say, and if you want a Buggy take advantage of the PEPAINTING, &c., done, as heretofore, in the best style and at the lowest prices for cash, which, in all cases will be expected on the delivery of work.

W. P. HOBBS.

REPAIRING,

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE CO. PRINCIPAL OFFICES

NET ASSETS JANUARY 1, 1875,

OVER $2,000,000 00.

ANNUAL INCOME, OVER $1,000,000 00.

BRANCH OFFICE, YORKVILLE, S. C.: W. B. WILSON, President. JOHN S. BRATTON, Vice-President.

J. C. KUYKENDAL, Sec. and Agent. I. D. WITHERSPOON, Attorney. DR. L. ALEXANDER, Med. Examiner.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE: J. F. Wallace, L. M. Grist, Andrew Jackson, J. A. McLean, S. G. Hemphill, W. B. Metts, J. F. Hart, A. Coward, C. E. Spencer.

Policies transferred from Northern Companies, without loss or additional annual outlay. Apply to Dr. J. C. KUYKENDAL, Agent, or to HAGOOD & TREUTLEN, Gen. Agents, 31 COTTON GINS, HORSE POWERS, STEAM ENGINES.

WE are now prepared to receive orders for the immediate delivery of the above articles. THE NEEDLE GIN

THE WINSHIP SAW GIN gives best satisfaction over other Saw Gins. We now sell these celebrated Gins at $3.50 per Saw, delivered at any of the Railroad Depots or Sta-tions, in this State or North Carolina, free of any charge for freight. We refer to John B. White-sides, J. Ran. Wallace, F. H. Brown and T. W.

We are also Agents for the sale of THE ERIE CITY ENGINE. and are prepared to furnish any size that may be needed, for ginning Cotton or other purposes.

JEFFERYS & METTS. SINGER SEWING MACHINE. WOULD respectfully inform the people of York county that I am Agent for the celebra-ted SINGER FAMILY SEWING MACHINE, and am prepared to sell them on most reasonable terms, either for cash or on the popular monthly INSTALLMENT PLAN. The Singer is too well and universally known to require any word of commendation here. It is the MONARCH OF SEWING MACHINES, for the substantiation of

I also keep on hand a full supply of ATTACH-I also keep on hand a full supply of ATTACHMENTS, NEEDLES, OIL, &c., which I sell at Manufacturer's prices. Those in want of such articles can procure them, in my absence, from Dr. May, Yorkville; L. H. Bradford, Fort Mill;
J. M. Wylle, Black's Station. E. F. BELL, Agent Singer Manufacturing Company.
August 26 34 1v

CHESTER AND LENOIR RAIL ROAD.

THE trains over the CHESTER AND LENOIS NARROW GAUGE RAILROAD will run (Sundays excepted) as follows, making close connection with the trains on the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad: Leave Yorkville at..... Arrive at Chester at..... ...5.10 p. m. ...7.00 p. m. Leave Chester at soned timber. This Department is conducted by Mr. W. F. GARVIN, who is ready to give prompt attention to all orders for Wagons and Repairs of other Vehicles.

A. H. DAVEGA, President. COTTON GINS, WAGONS, &C.

Thankful to the public for the generous patronage bestowed, I respectfully ask a continuance of the same.

J. ED. JEFFERYS.

July 15

28

tf THE STATE GRANGE FERTILIZER,

"THE CLIMAX."

TWO first-class, pure bone, ammoniated Fertilizers, for sale by D. JENNINGS & SON and J. D. AIKEN, Agents, Charleston, S. C. The highest testimonials can be given. Please send AUCTIONEERING.

THE undersigned takes this method to notify the public that he will give prompt attention to AUCTIONEERING in York and the adjoining counties. Communications may be addressed to him at Yorkville, S. C. S. G. BROWN.

March 5 10 tf The only way of securing beneficial results is RAGS WANTED.

10.000 POUNDS of clean cotton and lineer pound will be paid, at the "ENQUIRER" OFFICE.

THE COOKING STOVES manufactured at our THE COOKING STOVES manufactured at our works in Greensboro, N. C., give universal satisfaction wherever introduced. They are made of the BEST SCOTCH PIG METAL, with heavier and thicker plate than any other Stove in the market, and consequently will the longer withstand heat and hard usage. They are of hand some pattern and neat finish; and warranted equal in every other respect to any Cooking Stove sold in the United States, while it is confidently claimed that they are the CHEAPEST. All the usual pieces of ware and cooking utensils are furnished pieces of ware and cooking utensils are furnished with each Stove. An important consideration with purchasers is the fact that our patterns and sizes are never changed. Should a piece get accisizes are never changed. Should a piece get accidentally broken at any time, we can replace it at the mere cost of casting. Not simply because it is a home production, but on account of its intrinsic merits as an article of household economy, do we ask the patronage of home purchasers. More than ONE THOUSAND of these Stoves are now than ONE THOUSAND of these Stoves are now in use, and among many others having them we respectfully refer to the following: R. E. Guthrie, D. M. Campbell, M. H. Currence, York county; Mrs. Elizabeth J. Wylie, Chester; D. A. Gordon, Guthriesville; John A. Brown, Rock Hill; B. P. Boyd, Joseph Herndon, L. M. Grist, Yorkville, You can save the freight from the northern cities and the dealer's profit, which is no small item, by buving of us, and at the same time get a STOVE THAT IS MORE DURABLE than those of northern make. The following are our prices of northern make. The following are our prices delivered at depot in Greensboro:

No. 8, with 10 pieces ware and 8 feet pipe, $30.00 26 00 Address, SERGEANT & McCAULEY, T. M. DOBSON & CO., Agents, Yorkville, S. C.

JOHN R. LONDON, Agent, Rock Hill, S. C.

A. F. LINDSAY, Agent, Lowrysville, Chester county, S. C. J. L. CARROLL, Agent at Chester, S. C.

THE undert

the best style of the art, with the very best materials, and at as low prices as the same class of work can be furnished anywhere in the United States. Orders from a distance promptly filled, and the same attention given to work ordered by mail as if the parties we e present in person. From this date work will be delivered at any point on the Chester and Lenoir Narrow Gauge Railroad, between Yorkville and Chester, or at any place between Rock Hill and Winnsboro, on the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, free of charge for transportation. Thankful for the patronage heretofore bestowed upon my establishment, my determination is to merit a continuance of the same. termination is to merit a continuance of the same.

F. HAPPERFIELD.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, York County.

To Jonathan Galloway, Hugh A. Galloway, Alexander Galloway, Mary Wylie, Wm. I. Galloway, Wm. Galloway, Wm. Galloway, Hugh B. Galloway, Elizabeth Gurley, Mary Love, James F. Galloway, Alexander Galloway, the children of Wm. Galloway, who are unknown, Elizabeth McGill, Louisa N. McGill, Rachel I. Ferguson, Martha M. Plaxico, Louisa Matthews, John B Galloway, Robert Galloway, Agnes Galloway, J. Milton Galloway, and Sarah Galloway, legal heirs and representatives of Galloway, legal heirs and representatives of Peter W. Galloway, who died intestate:—

Peter W. Galloway, who died intestate:—
Greeting:

You are hereby required to appear at a Court of Probate to be holden at York Court House, for York county, on the 15th day of October, Anno Domini, 1875, to show cause, if any you can, why the real estate of said Peter W. Galloway, deceased, situate in said county, on Moore's Branch, waters of Turkey creek, bounding on lands of Hugh A. Galloway, S. Moore, Alexander Galloway, of Cornelius O'Daniel's estate, of James Goods, and of Samuel C. Youngblood, containing about two hundred and forty acres, more or less, should not be divided or sold, allotting to the said heirs of Peter W. Galloway, according to their respective legal rights.

their respective legal rights.

Given under my hand and seal, this 7th day of September, 1875.

JOSEPH A. McLEAN, Judge of Probate. September 9

BLANK BOOK MANUFACTORY STATIONERY, AND BOOK BINDERY. THANKING the public for liberal past patronage, I now invite attention to my complete

STAPLE AND FANCY STATIONERY, consisting, in part, of Flat Papers, Midium, Folio Post, Demy, Letter and Note. Blank Books, neve ry variety; Envelopes, Slates, Ink, &c, Fancy Stationery, Gold Pens and Pencils, Pen-Knives, Writing Desks, &c. Also, BOOK BINDING DONE, in all its various branches. Sheet Music, Periodicals, Law Books, &c., bound in any style desired. Old Books rebound and repaired. PRINTED BILL AND LETTER HEADS A SPECIALTY Orders promptly attended to, at lowest cash

March 25 STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, York County.

155 Main Street Columbia, S. C.

To James Merritt and others, legal heirs and representatives of Sarah Merritt, who died intestate. Greeting: VOU are hereby required to appear at the Court YOU are hereby required to appear at the Court of Probate, to be holden at York Court House, for York county, on the 8th day of November, Anno Domini, 1875, to show cause, if any you can, why the real estate of Sarah Merritt, deceased, situate in said county, on the East side of Catawba river, bounding on lands of R. S. Warren, T. C. Crook, Archibald Graham, and Robert Collier, known as the homestead of Sarah Merritt, deceased, and containing one hundred and fifty acres, should not be sold for partition amongst the heirs-at-law of the said Sarah Merritt, deceased. Given under my hand and seal, this 29th day of Given under my hand and seal, this 29th day of

June, 1875. JOSEPH A. McLEAN, Judge of Probate. September 9 SKY LIGHT,

TAKE pleasure to inform all in want of PHO-TOGRAPHIC PICTURES, that I have just taken possession of my NEW GALLERY, built with fine sky and side-lights, near my residence— first house east of the jail, and only a few hun-dred yards from the Court House corner. An experience of 28 years and every convenience for business, will enable me now to do better work than ever before.
Frames and Photo-Albums, Stereoscopes and Views always on hand.

I am also prepared to sell you a MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN, or an AMERICAN SEW-ING MACHINE, for cash or on time.

J. R. SCHORB.

BARBER SHOP.

THOSE in want of an EASY SHAVE, a fashionable and stylish cut of hair, or a pleasant Iuxurious Shampoo, are reminded that THOS. BALLARD, Professor of the Art Tonsorial, is still in business, in his old Shop next door to the ENQUIRER building, where it will afford him great pleasure to wait upon all who may desire his services. Razors honed and sharpened, and any other work of that kind promptly done. He may be found at the Shop on Sunday mornings from 7 to 10 o'clock.

and other fine-edged instruments. Prices—for and other nne-edged instruments. Prices—for honing and sharpening razors, 25 cents, and for sharpening scissors or shears, 10 cents each, and satisfaction guaranteed or no charge.

TOM BALLARD, Barber.

The Yorkville Enquirer,

TERMS ... IN ADVANCE :

10.000 POUNDS of clean cotton and linger pound will be paid, at the "ENQUIRER" OFFICE.

TRIAL JUSTICE'S BLANKS.

RECOGNIZANCES, Warrants of Arrest, Summons in civil action, and Executions. For sale at the ENQUIRER OFFICE.

27

ings from 7 to 10 o'clock.
THOMAS BALLARD.

TRESPECTFULLY inform the public that I

$5 to $20 PER Day at home. Terms free. Address & Co., Portland, Me. 3 ly*